NEWS AND VIEWS . . .

And What Have You

By BOB CRAIG

It was very heartening to see the huge voter turnout Saturday. This is the way it should be every year, but unfortunately it seems to take a controversy to wake people up to their obligations as a citizen.

Now that the election is over, it is time now for all us to get behind the people we have elected and give them our full support. Their's is a thankless task and they need everyone's support in making all of the decisions facing both the school and the city government.

Not only would we like to thank all of those elected for offering their services to the community but also those who were not elected. Sometimes it is easy to forget that these people are offering a very valuable asset to this community — their time. Without these volunteers our whole local system of government would come to as halt.

And in light of this, we would like to offer thanks all of those who have retired this year from these public duties.

To Dr. M. L. Smith for his 15 years of devoted service to our school system and to Ewell Mackey for serving the past three years. We were sorry that he felt that he should change his mind about seeking another term.

To D. W. Cowan for his two years of service to the city as councilman and another one that we would like to have seen serve longer.

And a very special thanks to Hollis Madden for his nine years service as mayor. This is probably the most thankless of all public jobs and one that he has devoted a great many hours to at a personal sacrifice.

To all of these people and to all who have served before them we owe a great debt of thanks.

We sometimes wonder if it wouldn't be well if the editors of all of the smaller newspapers of the Big Country got together and made a deal with the Abilene Reporter-News, — if they would tend to their own problems we would tend to ours.

It would seem to us that Abilene has enough problems to keep the Reporter-News busy without going out over the area trying to stir up troubles for their neighbors.

We recognize their right and duty to cover the events of the Big Country but sometimes wonder about their desire to stir up controversy and blow up small town problems all out of proportion.

We feel sure that the people of Dublin, Roscoe and a few other towns over the area would agree with us on this. Most towns have their problems but doubt if we need a big brother to come in and air them all out for us. Most communities can solve their local problems without some outsider coming in and airing out all of their dirty wash.

A case in point was the story in last Thursday's Abilene paper about our coaching situation. The story was both misleading and poorly written. The quotes, where accurate were taken out of context.

The writer contacted Coach Wright before he had been notified of the board's vote of the night before which we feel was in very poor taste. Most of the quotes used were made before the reporter informed the coach of the board's vote.

But the worst part of the story was that it was written for the sole purpose of creating a controversy where none existed. The board had made its decision two weeks earlier, reaffirmed it last week and both the public and Coach Wright had accepted it.

We did not write the story for this paper last week for two reasons — the first and foremost one was that when we checked on it we found that Deane

AFTER $15,000 BURGLARY — Mrs. Grady Smith, an employee of The Fashion Shop and Hamlin Flower Shop, holds one of the garments left after the early morning burglary of the Fashion Shop Friday. The case is under investigation by Hamlin Police Chief Ed Wheat, right. Behind Chief Wheat is the front display unit which was stripped by the suspects. Only three garments were left in the unit in front of Mrs. Smith. The photo inset shows the front door where the lock mechanism was removed to gain entry.

$15,000 In High Fashions Taken In Burglary Friday

An estimated loss of $15,000 in ladies high fashion clothing resulted from the early morning burglary of the Fashion Shop on Southwest Third Street.

Early estimates Friday morning by one of the owners, Mrs. Hollis Madden, was set from $5,000 to $6,000. After checking with her daughter, Mrs. Billy Joe Wilson, co-owner of the business who handles the inventory, it was learned that the loss was actually around $15,000. Mrs. Wilson was vacationing with her family in Ruidosa, N. Mex., during the Easter holidays when the burglary occurred.

The break-in was discovered by the Hamlin Police Department at 3:40 a.m. Police Chief Ed Wheat, who was called to the scene, said that the front door was entered by removing the lock mechanism. It appeared that two or three subjects were involved due to the amount of merchandise taken, he said.

Taken were top name brands of clothing. A full rack in the center aisle of the dress shop had just been filled with a shipment of Act III brand merchandise. All but one suit was taken from the rack.

One display unit at the front was completely stripped leaving only a coat hanger. In the next unit only three articles were left. On the east side of the shop, the suspects apparently became selective, and left several garments in each of three of the units. The majority of the clothing taken were smaller sizes up to size 12.

The back door of the business, which also includes Hamlin Flower Shop, was damaged showing evidence that the efforts were made to enter the building at the back in the alley.

None of the flower shop merchandise was reported taken. About $10 in money was missed.

The burglary is still under investigation by the Hamlin Police Department. Chief Wheat said Tuesday that upon checking with area police and sheriff's units the method used to enter the building here is similar to other burglaries to being reported in Brady, Brownwood, Coleman, Cleburne and the J. C. Penney Co. in Abilene.

Celotex to Buy Waste Paper Collected for Pool

A waste paper drive for support of the Hamlin Swimming Pool moved into full swing here this week as D. W. Cowan, plant manager of Celotex, Inc., announced that his firm has agreed to purchase the paper collected at the Hamlin Board of Community Development office.

Celotex will buy all paper goods collected — newspapers, magazines, boxes and other paper goods, but no plastic goods will be accepted. The paper should be tied with string, put in sacks or boxed and delivered to the BCD office, according to Mrs. Peggie Bonds, executive secretary.

Celotex will pay the current market price for the paper and will pick it up at the BCD office. The price fluctuates, but is currently at $20 a ton.

The project was started as a ecology project by the second grade classes and has grown into a money raising project for the Hamlin Foundation, operators of the local swimming pool.

MRS. ALEX BRUCE McLENNAN, JR.
... formerly Martha Ellison

Ellison, McLennan Vows Exchanged

Martha Elaine Ellison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Luther N. Ellison, and Alex Bruce McLennan Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Alex B. McLennan Sr. of Avoca, were married Friday evening in the Hamlin Church of Christ.

Bill Steensland of Abilene Abilene Christian College performed the ceremony.

Pat Carter was the soloist. Recorded music was by Mrs. Pat Carter.

Deborah Meyner was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Diane Ford, Latrese Williams, Carla Adair and Karen McLennan of Denver, Colo.

Judy Crouch and Terrie Ellison of Arlington were flower girls and ring bearers were Jerry Allan McLennan and Robert Bruce McLennan.

Jackie Warner and Mike Donham were candlelighters. Allan McLennan of Stamford, the bridegroom's twin brother, was best man.

Groomsmen were Lloyd Lacy and Gary London, both of Stamford, Royce Ekdahl of Lubbock and Wendel Williams of Abilene.

Ushers were Bill Longley of Wichita Falls, Steve Stapp of Dallas and Jimmy Leverett of Abilene.

The bride, was presented in marriage by her father, wore a formal empire gown of satin and lace. The bodice of lace over satin featured a high more time for pleasure, gals, thanks to men's efforts years ago... it was early women's lib!

Long before the women's lib movement became a popular topic of conversation, then developed into major national and international issues, some non-chauvinist males were in their own way doing things for women's liberation — liberation from tedious chores, that is.

Probably because from this idea stemmed so many of the work-saving home appliances we take for granted today, we should first mention Michael Faraday of England. In 1831, Faraday discovered the principle upon which the dynamo is based. The dynamo, or generator, is the machine which produces the electric current that runs our house full of work-saving appliances.

Although Thomas Saint, also an Englishman, developed the first sewing machine in 1790, his model was not practical. Others followed, but it was not until 1846 that Elias Howe patented what was the forerunner of the sewing machines we enjoy today.

We might also salute the chemists who developed nylon in 1937. From this man-made fiber came a whole new family of fabrics that are the delight of today's fashion designers. The delight of women, too, because they require little or no ironing; simply touch-up work. These men probably heard from their wives that, for most women, ironing was among the most disliked of tasks.

But not even the electric iron and easy-to-care-for fabrics could change women's viewpoint on ironing. Something was needed to help the iron do the work. Magic sizing, a modern ironing aid, answered that need. Sprayed on as you iron, sizing helps your iron glide smoothly over fabrics. Because of its special lubricant, there's no need for you to push and pull at the iron. And, as you iron, it restores the like new "body" and finish that regular laundering often removes from even man-made fabrics.

It's interesting, too, to realize that as all these appliances and aids were developed to help liberate women from burdensome work, women were asked for ideas on improvements. Self-cleaning ovens and irons that almost think for you with their special dials and controls are examples of this. Even sizing answered the requests of women, and Extra Crisp, for extra perkiness, was developed to give you a complete modern ironing aid.

On Good Will Tour — Maid Spins Good Cotton Yarn

Not only does 1972 Maid of Cotton Debbie Wright speak up for cotton as the natural fiber, but she also spins a good yarn about the research going on in the industry.

Neither of these points comes as a surprise, however, because the job is a natural for the 22-year old Texas Tech graduate. She grew up on a cotton farm at Tahoka on the South Plains of Texas, where a large portion of the nation's cotton crop is harvested.

Debbie's cotton-farming dad, Bryan Wright, instilled in her a fierce loyalty to the natural fiber that provided their livelihood. She says she has been buying her clothes on the basis of cotton content for a long time, and it was usually okay with her father to bring home anything of cotton. "If it wasn't cotton, though, I had to wait and see how the day went on the farm before I could bring it home."

In the interest of ecology, consumers — and particularly those who make up the youth market — are buying more cotton items. The search is for the natural "Cotton is the ideal natural fiber," Debbie says. "It's fresher and crisper and it has the real clean look I like. It even looks clean in a pair of blue jeans."

A blue-eyed blond, Debbie was a dean's list scholar as a home economics major at Texas Tech and plans to do graduate work in nutrition therapy when her tour as cotton's first lady ends. Her interest in nutrition has been heightened greatly by the new possibilities of cottonseed as a food source.

"Most people associate cotton with fashion," she says, "and, of course, it's the No. 1 use. But it's also interesting to see the new research going on in the labs today to develop new, high-protein foods from cottonseed."

"Nutrition has been one of my interests for a long time. One of my friends worked with cottonseed when she was doing nutrition research, and these products — cookies and breads, mostly — really taste pretty good."

"Now they're talking about putting cottonseed concentrate in soft drinks so that three of them would give kids their daily protein requirement."

Another exciting phase of cotton research, according to Debbie, deals with new developments in durable press and non-flammable cottons. "For example, experiments with radiation are being done to change the fiber at the molecular level for no-iron fabrics without chemical finishes."

Like any daughter of a cotton producer, Debbie is often asked if she has picked cotton. The answer is a polite "no." Cotton on the Wright farm — like that on 95 percent of the nation's cotton farms — now is machine harvested.

"When I was small, I did go out and pull some to see if I was good enough to keep up with the workers," Debbie says. "I lasted about five minutes."

Another question she hears often is whether she feels exploited in her role as Maid of Cotton. "Definitely not," she says. "You can't say you're being exploited when you're having an opportunity to meet people, and to travel throughout this country and many other nations as an ambassador not only for cotton but for the United States, too."

Debbie says she is finding the tour "demanding in a nice sort of way. It's a matter of discipline. You're no longer representing just yourself, but thousands of people who work in cotton."

She says she likes the idea of doing something for cotton "because it has done a lot for me and the nation. It's brought improved consumer products at lower prices because of research and competition. And it creates thousands of jobs from growing cotton to manufacturing it."

Her tour includes stops in Canada, the U.S., the Far East, and Europe. Debbie says she's particularly interested in traveling out of the country "to see what everybody else is doing with cotton. Maybe they're doing some things we're not, and we're doing a tremendous number of things."

FROM THE FILES . . .

FORTY-THREE YEARS AGO (April 5, 1929)

The corner building, long known as the Cecil building is now the scene of a hustling drug store. That is, we mean a Pharmacy. Wednesday of this week, the Inzer Drug Company moved into this house on the corner.

Last Friday night was picked as a good time to gather jewelry, if we judge by the way the parties acted in entering the McMahon Jewelry Store. A fellow of more than fifty years was found crawling out of a window at the rear of the store. He had on his person a lot of stuff from the store. The man is lodged in the county jail awaiting the action of the grand jury, and nothing has been heard of the other parties. The loss was not considered very heavy.

"Out of sight, out of mind," is an often quoted phrase. If this be true Hamlin High will never be allowed to forget her '28 — '29 Juniors, for on Wednesday morning the Junior Class presented to HHS a beautiful white banner with the inscription in green, "H.H.S. Juniors '28-'29." Long may it wave in a conspicuous place as an inspiration to the juniors of the future and as a memento of a grand and glorious class that has gone on before.

By BOB CRAIG

Wright had not been informed of the vote and therefore held up any action until later. The second reason was that since we were nearing our deadline by the time the coach would have been informed of the board's vote we did not feel that the story was really all that important since there is very little difference between not renewing a contact and voting not to renew one.

The funny part of the whole mess was that we were asked if we had written the story by someone who had heard the rumor that we had. Like we told them— if we had written the story we would have at least gotten Barbara's name right.

Maybe we just don't understand this new journalism that all of these kids fresh out college evidently believe in but we still feel that if big brother will not come over here stirring up trouble we will not go over there looking for trouble.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

NEINDA PHILOSOPHER

J. A. Joins, In Manner of Speaking, Fight On All Those High Meat Prices

Editor's note: The Neinda Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Route One takes a comprehensive look at high prices this week.

Dear editor:

As I understand it, a big eastern grocery chain has been advertising against the price of meat, telling its customers beef is too high and they ought to buy something else.

On the other hand, incidentally, cattlemen point out that beef on the hoof is now selling for what it was 20 years ago.

But the point that interests me is the grocery chain's thinking. I'm not sure those folks have thought this thing through.

That is, if they want you to stop buying meat because it's high, what does this do to other items? If you're going to stop buying anything that's gone up in the last few years, you can write your grocery list on one fingernail.

Furthermore, better stop buying cars, clothes, electricity, tractors, telephones, college education, public schools, etc.

Whatever you do, don't get sick or hurt. Hospital costs have doubled and tripled in the last 20 years.

Don't vote for anybody for Congress. Congressmen's salaries have gone up 100 percent in the last 20 years. An aged Congressman now costs twice as much as aged beef did 20 years ago.

Don't smash a fender or blow a gasket. Garage charges have gone up tremendously in the last few years and the only way to fight this is to stop having things fixed.

In fact, the only way to bring high prices down is to stop everything. Have meat-less meals, car-less months, hospital-less lives, etc. Come to think of it, under this attack, you couldn't even buy a copy of The Herald. I said meat-less meals, but actually it'd have to be food-less meals, and go light on the water. Water bills have gone up too.

The more I think about this grocery chain's notion of fighting high prices, the more I'm convinced it must be tired of the grocery business. If you go into a store determined not to buy anything that hasn't gone up, the only thing I can think of you can come out with is a package of chewing gum.

What's that? It's gone up too?

Then there's nothing left to do but to stay out of grocery stores and grow your own food. You don't mean it, the price of seed has gone up too? And fertilizer? And garden tools?

This calls for a halt to everything.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

LETTER TO EDITOR

Frank Shearer Says 'Thanks'

A statement from Frank Shearer:

Because of my work load, it is physically impossible to thank each one of you personally who took the time to come out and vote in the city election, so please accept this as my most heartfelt thanks to each and every one of you who voted for me. It is a wonderful feeling to know that I have so many friends and supporters.

Regardless of how any of you voted however, I am proud that you did get out and vote. A lot of people said that Hamlin was indifferent and didn't care, but the huge turnout proved that you do care and that is the important thing.

I spoke with Joe Ford after the election, and promised him that I would back him with all of my ability in anything he does which would be beneficial to Hamlin, and I urge everyone to do the same.

The mayor does not have an easy job, and we must all stand together to support him as he strives for a better Hamlin.

The big thing now, is that which ever way you voted, keep up your civic spirit and stay concerned. Don't fall back and become lethargic.

If you have questions or problems about our city which bother you, don't just gripe and complain to one another but make your voice heard. The City Council has no way of knowing how you feel and what you want unless you tell them.

The massive turnout for this election proves that you are not just a tiny single voice that no one hears. Keep up the good work and may God bless each and every one of you.

Thank you,
Frank Shearer

TIPS FOR OUTDOORSMEN

by Vern Sanford

STRAIGHTENING THE LINE

Towing your monofilament line out of the back of the boat while motoring slowly for a few hundred yards will remove the kinks and twists that result when fishing without use of a swivel.

HUNTING EXOTIC GAME

Exotic game hunting is increasing in the United States. There are at least five areas in this country where native game of Africa, India, Germany and even Russia can be hunted on private property for a fee.

BEAGLE GOOD HUNTER

A handy dog for either rabbit or squirrel hunting is the beagle. It can be trained to hunt either or both animals.

PROTECTION FROM THORNS

Bird hunters should wear chaps or padded leggings to protect them from thorns and scratches. If none is available, use the trousers of an old rain suit.

EMERGENCY TACKLE BOX

Plastic egg cartons make ideal small and handy tackle boxes, especially on a boat. Lures can be dropped into the light container compartments and kept handy for instant use or stored for safe keeping until needed.

RETRIEVING LURES

If you have trouble with lures hanging on old tree tops either above or below the water, try using an expandable golf ball retriever. They telescope out to 6 feet and are ideal for knocking plugs loose.

STURGEON FISHING

When you fish for sturgeon, you need heavy equipment. It is the largest freshwater fish in the world. There are more than 20 species and individual fish many times are larger than a man.

NEWS FROM . . .

Old Glory

By Bernice D. White

If rain on Good Friday or Easter Sunday is a sign for a wet spring, as many do predict, we have some hope. We had a light sprinkle on the evening of Good Friday.

In Saturday's Trustee election here at Old Glory School, the two places went to Glen Pierce with 55 votes, and Herbert Teichelman with 37 votes. Jimmy Cox received 20 votes.

A group from Sweet Home Baptist Church in Rule enjoyed the Easter Picnic and Easter Egg hunt for the children, which is held annually at the H. L. Boles place north of Old Glory.

Marvin Vahlenkamp has been named State Animal Health Inspector for this area. Mr. and Mrs. Vahlenkamp and little daughter, Jimma, live in Aspermont. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Vahlenkamp of Old Glory.

Among those from out of town who were here to attend the picnic were several from Aspermont, Col. and Mrs. Glen Johnson and children of San Antonio, who were here visiting with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. R. Johnson, also the V. R. Leveretts from Abilene.

The Old Glory Variety Club met Tuesday, Mar. 28, in the home of Mrs. Beno Hertenberger. Three members present were Mmes. Bill Wright and Charlie Letz and the hostess. Visitors were Mmes. Emma Klump, Adele Duden-sing, and also Mrs. Louise Spradlin of Waco.

AUSTIN — State lawmakers polished off billboard control and primary election finance legislation in a three-day special session — and added far-reaching procedural reform rules for good measure.

They will be back to work in June on budget and tax matters.

In their "Mini-session", the legislators — many anxious to get back to the campaign trails — logged these accomplishments:

They provided for emergency state financing of the May and June primary elections and set aside $2 million to pay the bills. another long-term primary

H. L. Boles.

Judy White and Weldon Spitzer, Texas Tech students, who spent the holidays here with their parents, returned to Lubbock Sunday. Judy spent several days in Abilene last week visiting Carmen Hoffman and other Hardin-Simmons friends.

Stephanie Letz of Odessa spent the weekend here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Letz. She joined her sisters, Reva and Regina, Angelo State Students, who were also here for spring holidays. They all returned to Odessa and San Angelo Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Callicoatte and Jill of Midland spent the weekend here visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Letz, and Mr. and Mrs. Delos Callicoatte. They also went by Abilene to visit with Jerry's grandmother, Mrs. Bess Forgas of Aspermont, who is in the hospital there recovering from a broken leg.

Micheal Vanderworth, a student at Midwestern University in Wichita Falls, spent the Easter Holidays here with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Letz.

finance measure will be necessary next year.

They moved to meet federal highway beautification requirements by outlawing billboards within 660 feet of major highways and providing for screening of junkyards. The measure will cost the state about $5 million a year in condemnation costs for five years. But it will prevent a $24 million loss of federal highway construction funds for non-compliance with regulations.

Both House and Senate adopted joint rules including sharp limitations on powers of conference committees to write new legislative matters without majority permission.

The House also accepted rules installing a limited seniority system for committee assignments, reducing the number of committees from 46 to 25 and providing for electronic recording of House and Committee proceedings.

Legislators also made Texas the eighth state to ratify a proposed federal constitutional amendment guaranteeing equal legal rights for women.

Highlight of the opening day was election of Rep. Rayford Price, 35, of Palestine as new speaker of the House. Price won 77-65 over Rep. L. Dewitt Hale of Corpus Christi. He succeeds Rep. Gus Mutscher of Brenham who resigned after his conviction for bribery conspiracy.

ALLOWABLE ADJUSTED — Texas Railroad Commission decided to hold the oil allowable for the big East Texas Field to 66 percent during April instead of the 100 percent fixed for the rest of the state.

An increase for the East Texas Field was postponed pending completion of a study.

Chairman Byron Tunnell said the nation has "far too much at stake" in East Texas "to risk reservoir damage through excessive production rates."

For the first time since 1948, the Commission fixed a 100 percent production factor for this month.

COURTS SPEAK — Major sections of Texas vagrancy laws were held unconstitutional by the State Court of Criminal Appeals which said the act makes it a crime to be unemployed or poor.

Texas Supreme Court declined to order two aspiring candidates' names placed on the May primary ballots. One failed to post a filing fee or petition of candidacy. Another was refused a ballot position because he was already a member of a utility district board.

The High Court set for May 10 hearing on an appeal involving the City of Amarillo's power to tax a Masons' Lodge building and three lots owned by the order.

INSURANCE HEARING PUT OFF — A scheduled March 29 hearing by the State Insurance Board on a proposed increase in home insurance was indefinitely postponed amid talk of compromise.

Board Chairman Larry Teaver sought a year's delay in applying a rating factor providing for rate additions due to inflation and rising construction costs. He had been out-voted by two other Board members on postponing use of the inflation factor.

"The Board is taking a thorough look at all of the factors involved with rating and working toward solutions to complex and complicated problems that arise when considering rate adjustments," Teaver said.

Teaver contended the Board's refusal earlier to suspend the inflation trend factor would cost Texans an additional $27 million in premiums next year, when a $14 million reduction could have been made under his own recommendations.

SHORT SNORTS Comptroller Robert S. Calvert estimates $711.1 million in general revenue will be available for certification toward 1973 budgeting.

Sen. Barbara Jordan of Houston is new state senate president pro tempore — the first black woman in the U. S. chosen to such a post.

Why Americans own $54,000,000,000 worth of U.S. Savings Bonds.

One good reason is the Payroll Savings Plan. About three-fourths of all Bonds are purchased through the Plan. It's helping Americans save more money than they ever dreamed they could.

That's because the Payroll Savings Plan is such an easy way to save. All you do is sign up where you work and the amount you specify is set aside from each paycheck and used to buy U.S. Savings Bonds. It's the easy way to build a nest egg.

You've got your reasons to save money. There's one great way to do it painlessly. Join the millions who are buying Bonds the Payroll Savings Way.

Now E Bonds pay 5 1/2 % interest when held to maturity of 5 years, 10 months (4 1/2 % the first year). Bonds are replaced if lost, stolen, or destroyed. When needed they can be cashed at your bank. Interest is not subject to state or local income taxes, and federal tax may be deferred until redemption.

Take stock in America. Buy U.S. Savings Bonds.

Neinda Philosopher Takes A Dim View Of Light Bulb Lasting 71 Years

Editor's note: The Neinda Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Route One takes a rather violent reaction to an oddity in the news.

Dear editor:

There's enough violence in the world without any additional help from me, for example a Washington commission has just finished an alarming study on the effect of T.V. violence on children, although it failed to study the effect of children's violence on adults, but to pick up this sentence where I started it, I don't want to add to the sum total of violence but I heard about something the other day that needs perhaps violent attention.

It's a light bulb. There's a light bulb in California that's been burning for 71 years and is still going strong. Located in a fire station, it stays on night and day and is as good now as the day it was first turned on.

Understand I'm not suggesting it and it'd be a shame for it to happen, but perhaps somebody who understands world economy ought to shoot that thing out.

Have you stopped to think what would happen to the world's economy if everything lasted as long as that light bulb?

Buy a new car every 71 years? Never have to take it to a garage? Plug in a new refrigerator and an air conditioner and sit back with the comforting thought that your great grandchildren will have cold sodawater and never swelter in the summer time?

Fairly Free Private Enterprise

Curbside flower vendors became so numerous in a certain community that the regular florists began to complain about the competition. Finally, the city council passed a tough licensing law aimed at knocking the street vendors out of business.

But when the new law was tested in court, it was held null and void. The court said the city simply had no power to regulate a business as harmless as selling flowers.

Private enterprise, while not wholly free, still has considerable vitality. A city's "police power" does not include blanket authority over all kinds of business activities, just because they happen to be within the city limits.

On the other hand, a city may indeed impose restraints on a business that has a real potential for harm.

Consider the case of a man who started a telephone answering service. According to a city ordinance, he and his employees were supposed to submit to photographing and fingerprinting. Challenging the ordinance, the man said it was unfair to "single us out."

But a court saw two ways in which a telephone answering service could be harmful:

- 1) by the misuse of confidential information about subscribers; and
- 2) by the encouragement of immoral activities.

Upholding the city's requirements, the court said:

"There is a reasonable basis for distinguishing this type of business from others that are not regulated."

Another ordinance, covering private detectives, went still further. Under its terms, they had to put up a special bond and get a character clearance from the police department.

But again, a court decided there were enough possibilities for mischief in this line of work to justify the city in taking precautions. As one judge put it:

"A statute to promote the public safety is valid, although it may interfere with individual freedom. Individual freedom must yield to the public good."

Buy a new T.V. set and realize you won't have to buy a new one for the next 8 or 10 years?

You can see immediately what this would do to manufacturing throughout the world and the ruination of the economy. You know what it did to the maker of that light bulb. The firm closed up for lack of new business.

Wouldn't be much left for people to do but sit around on sofas that won't wear out listening to old men tell about the excitement throughout the country when the last new model car came out years and years ago.

Actually, I ought to be ashamed of myself for calling even this much attention to that light bulb. Let's forget all about it, even if it does indicate the only known way to halt inflation.

If you want to keep the wheels turning, let your light so shine that it will burn out at least every 90 days.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Because of the Easter holidays, Track Coach Deane Wright only carried six of his thinclads to Andrews Friday for the Mustang Relays but this was enough to win the Division II title with 85 points. Only the boys that wanted to go participated.

Cork won the long jump and the 220 and finished second in the 100. He anchored the sprint relay team to a first place finish and was third in the high jump. Jones took first in the 100,

Pre-School Visitation Day Planned Here Tuesday

All children who will be in the first grade this fall are invited to visit school on Tuesday, Apr. 11. Cards will be mailed to each child not now enrolled in Kindergarten. All Kindergarten children now attending school will attend their regular classes on Tuesday.

Parents of Kindergarten children are welcome to visit school and eat lunch on Tuesday. Those not enrolled in our present Kindergarten who fail to receive a card need to call the primary school, 576-3881, for information.

The teachers ask that each child be at school by 8:30 on Tuesday. Lists will be posted on each first grade door and the child will visit the room where he finds his name.

The children will need to bring 40 cents to eat lunch in the school cafeteria. Also it will be necessary for parents to bring the child's birth certificate in order to register for the coming school year, school officials say. Children may go home at 1 p.m.

Texas now has an Immunization Law that requires a child to have had before enrollment — the three shot series for diphtheria — whooping cough — tetanus; 3 dose series for polio; measles; and rubella. Proof of these immunizations must be furnished the school in the form of a hospital or doctor's certificate, signed by a doctor.

The child's immunization record should be taken to the school so that it may be placed on record at the school.

The Immunizations Law is a State law and not a ruling of the Hamlin school system.

A pre-school clinic for the children will not be held this year, the school authorities said.

The day's activities will include a program by the first grade children under the direction of Mrs. Willard Maberry.

The Parent-Teachers Association members will assist the school personnel with registration and help the teachers in the classrooms.

Dinner Set At Oak Grove

The Deaconess Board of Oak Grove Baptist Church will sponsor a dinner Saturday evening in Fellowship Hall. Serving will begin at 6:30 p.m.

Mrs. I. J. Starr is president. The menu will include chicken and dressing, green beans, new potatoes, fruit salad, hot rolls, pie and tea or coffee.

Plates will be $1.25 each.

Maberry and family drove out from Garland over the weekend bringing Mrs. Roy Kiser home. Also in the home over the holidays were: Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Kiser and family of Abilene, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Spikes also of Abilene, and Mr. and Mrs. Bert Ward of Seagraves.

Mrs. Ruth Brown drove to Sweetwater this morning and brought her grandson, Eric, out to spend a few days with them. Melissa Hardwick and her grandmother, Mrs. Morton of Abilene, spent Friday visiting with the Chub Hardwicks.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Maberry enjoyed the Easter Holidays in Irving with the Wesley Maberry family.

Sharon Townley Elected Class Officer At H-SU

Sharon Townley was elected vice president of the Senior Class at Hardin Simmons University during an all-school election last Wednesday.

The candidates campaigned throughout the week and the campaign speeches were given on Tuesday evening at the Spring Carnival and Picnic.

Miss Townley was also elected as senior congressman. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Townley of Haskell formerly of Hamlin.

Little League Tryouts Set

Tryouts for the Hamlin Little League teams will be held Friday and Monday at 6 p.m. at the elementary school playgrounds.

All boys who will be 9 before Aug. 1 and those who will not be 13 before Aug. 1 may try out, according to Ed Wheat, president of the organization.

Jaycee Volleyball Tournament dates Apr. 6, 7 and 8.

Mrs. Cliff Early spent several days in Hamlin hospital for tests and x-rays but is home now.

The mesquites got in too big a hurry and with that 1½ in. of snow we had last week some of them got killed and a lot of gardens were killed.

Mr. and Mrs. Buford Brown were in Abilene Thursday and visited with her sister, Mrs. Teague, who had surgery recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Martin of Monmouth, Ore., and Mrs. Eivens of Ft. Worth are spending some time on the Eivens farm near McCaulley. They have all visited in the Milo Gray home while here.

over the Easter Holidays.

You will hear more and more talk about boat safety—safer boating and safer boats—as time goes by.

Both the boater and the boat builder will be important factors of an intensified, many-sided campaign for safer boating. Also playing an integral part will be the manufacturers of the various items that belong on the safety list—the buoyant cushions, life-saving rings, life vests, lights (spot and signal) and even the anchors.

Under the new Boat Safety Act, no craft not constructed or equipped in conformance with Federal regulations can be operated on Federal waters.

Peter M. Wilson, executive vice-president of the National Association of Engine and Boat Manufacturers, pointed out at a boat dealers seminar in Seattle, Washington, recently that the boat owner himself has the primary responsibility to ensure that his craft is fitted out according to Federal regulations and thereafter maintained to those standards.

So, the boat owner is included, too. Wilson told the dealers that in addition to their responsibility to make sure that the boat they sell meets all standards, they should provide a conversion service for old craft to make alterations which may become necessary after standards for new boats and equipment have been researched and developed.

Boats and boating safety also dominated the discussions recently held at Hilton Head Island, South Carolina at the Sixth Annual Marine Aluminum Derby conducted for the Press by the manufacturers of aluminum boats.

Among the many safety features discussed were increased flotation in the craft itself, spill-over panels (splash wells) to prevent swamping, better fire-resistant characteristics of construction, stronger collision-shock resistance, gasoline spillage prevention, and driver-education programs.

With pleasure boating increasing in popularity, and more fishing and skiing throughout the nation, something must be done to reduce boating accidents. The new Federal regulations are just the beginning.

Courtesy and consideration of the other fellow are human characteristics that are difficult to write into law. But these two factors play an important part in safe motoring—be it on land or water.
